Life is full of experiences.
We begin to live these experiences the minute we are born. As we mature, experience is replaced by reason—reason which makes us follow knowledge—reason which makes us stop and ask ourselves:
Who are we? Who should we be?
Where are we going?
How will we get there? What is it
TO BE ALIVE?

What is it TO BE ALIVE?

Afternoon pep sessions take enthusiastic MHS students away from the school desk for a short time.

The doors of Merrillville High School witness the yearly flow of students coming and alumni leaving.

"We'll trick the Troopers and treat the Pirates," chanted the Pepteens at the Homecoming pep session. Dressed in Halloween costumes the Pepteens presented each football player with homecoming mums for his parents.

Sophomores emerged victorious in the annual Homecoming powder puff football game on Thursday night with a 13-0 defeat over the junior team, followed by a 7-0 victory over the senior team.

As part of homecoming pep session, Pepteens did a skit in which they tricked the Troopers and treated the Pirates.

Rushing for a touchdown, Linda Machia is blocked by Gayle Cieszkiewicz.

Spirit remains sunny despite rain

Rainy and windy weather did not stop the annual Homecoming Parade from starting promptly at 5 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 17. Heading the parade were the Student Council officers.

In addition to the usual float and car entries, the football team rode on a large semi-truck in the parade.

Winding up the parade were the Marching Pirates. On each side of the band, the Pomettes, with their drooping pom-poms, continued marching despite the stormy weather.

The various entries proceeded down Broadway as the Homecoming parade moved to the high school for the powder puff game at Demaree Field, where energetic female athletes provided entertainment by displaying their skill in football.

Queen Dinah Maihofer rules; 'Homecoming Haunt' bewitches

Halftime brought Homecoming activities to a climax with the announcement of Mr. Football Tom Simpson and Queen Dinah Maihofer at the annual Homecoming game at Demaree Field Friday, Oct. 17.

Following the crowning of the queen and her presentation of red roses and a gold locket, her court received yellow roses and necklaces from the Student Council officers.

Anticipation and suspense continued to mount prior to the announcement of the winners in the float divisions. For the first time, Student Council presented a large traveling trophy to the winning float. Spanish Club's float "Fight Trooper Mouth" won the award. Future Homemakers of America and Future

Secretaries of America tied for top honors in the car division.

Following halftime, the Pirates suffered a defeat at the hands of Gary Wirt Troopers, 30-13.

The traditional semi-formal dance "Homecoming Haunt" was held Saturday, Oct. 19, from 7-11 p.m., bringing the week of Homecoming activities to a close. Providing the music for the occasion were the "Basooties."

Black cats on a white picket fence, witches and dark lighting all helped to create a "haunting" mood in the Engelhart Gym. Adding to the Halloween theme were the pumpkins, black cat nut cups and orange and black napkins on each table.

Volunteering as servers, freshmen participate in high school activities.

"Homecoming Haunt" creates the mood for many couples at the dance.

"Come on, old man, give me your seat for this dollar," bribes Tony to enable him to have Andrew's seat next to Mayme.

'Ladies of the Jury' is final play for seniors

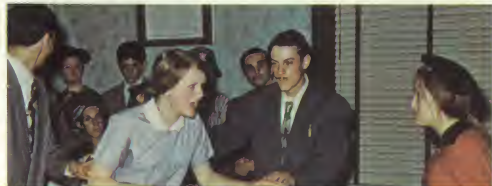

Fred Ballard's "Ladies of the Jury," a courtroom drama, was presented by the Senior class April 24, 25, and 26 at the Merrillville High auditorium.

Although Ballard's play in itself was a serious drama, the characters in the senior production were developed humorously.

Taking place in the small town of Rosevale, New Jersey, the play concerned a murder trial and the jury's attempt to reach a verdict despite the antics of a well meaning Mrs. Crane.

The costumes for the play were in the style of the 1940's. Men wore baggy pants and double breasted suits while the women wore long dresses and padded shoulders.

Director Mr. Morrow and student director Cathy Austin go over the script to improve the actions of the characters.

A waiter and three waitresses from a nearby restaurant bring in supper for the hungry members of the jury.

"You lie, you lie! I did not kill my husband," screams Mrs. Gordon to the witness on the stand, Evelyn Snow.

"I want to go home. I want my Harry," cries the newlywed Mrs. Dace as Mrs. Crane tries her best to comfort her.

"My heart belongs to daddy," sings Mayme Mixer as she runs her fingers through Jay J. Pressley's hair to make him angrier because she changed her vote.

Appearing in Ladies of the Jury are FRONT ROW: G. Uremovich, Walter; D. Nommenson, L. Berta, M. Mandich, Waitresses. ROW 2: R. Fink, Rutherford Dale; T. Greek, Mrs. Gordon; D. Swan, Halsey Van Sty. ROW 3: T. Minard, Cynthia Tate; E. Beck, Steve Bromm; C. Bell, Mayme Mixer; N. Tarallo, Tony Theodophilus; L. Petrovich, Lily Pratt; R. Nelson, Mrs. Crane; M. Ga-

lanis, Dr. James; B. Sweeney, Court Reporter; C. Wichmanowski, Court Clerk; J. Edwards, Court Officer; P. Graves, Evelyn Snow; A. Bartley, Judge Rish. ROW 4: D. Gust, Jay J. Pressley; C. Rubis, Andrew MacKaig; R. Williams, Mrs. Maguire; T. Fuller, Alonzo Beal; P. Sheridan, Mrs. Dace; T. Arini, Spencer B. Dazey; L. Haas, Susanne; D. Haiges, Court Policewoman.

Appearing in "Dinny and the Witches" are BOTTOM ROW: C. Wichmanowski, Dinny Jr.; T. Arini, Stonehenge; E. Kasiak, Jake; C. Rubis, Ben; T. Minard, Minnie. ROW 2: C. Bell, Student Director; T. Thrash, Luella; S. Collins, Ulga; G. Angelov, Zenobia; D.

Kellenberger, Chloe; G. Cieszkiewicz, Dawn; L. Hass, Bubbles; Mr. Gran, Director. ROW 3: K. Usher, Harry; J. Edwards, Dick; M. Stewart, Tom; M. Bernard, Amy; P. Cullimore, Dinny.

Chloe, Dawn and Bubbles sing to Dinny.

Junior class debuts with 'Dinny'

Including everything from a strip-tease dance to three witches who control the world, "Dinny and the Witches," performed Nov. 21-23, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium, was the first play produced by the Class of '70.

"Dinny" was a play of many moods ranging from humor and romance to suspense. Dinny, a trumpet player searching for the meaning of life, was hindered by three witches. In his search, Dinny met the kings of the world, a businessman, a blind man, a drunk and three beautiful chorus girls.

Directed by Raymond Gran, the class play contributed toward the fund for the Junior Prom.

While Amy and Dinny gaze at the sky, Dinny Junior points out that he, too, sees a shooting star of good fortune.

"This is how the world was made, in a stew, in a stew," Chant Luella, Zenobia and Ulga.

"He burst his heart," cries Stonehenge after winning thousands of dollars on a horse placing first to third in a race.

Turnabout sets off Christmas season

"Winter Twilight," the turnabout Christmas dance, was held Dec. 14 at 8:00 p.m. in Engelhart Gym. Record attendance was achieved as approximately 125 couples attended the holiday affair.

Couples danced around the center of attraction, a 10-foot Christmas tree, to the music provided by the Chocolate Syrup. Assisting the couples with refreshments, cookies and punch, were freshmen servers dressed in traditional red and green.

Working behind the scenes to make the dance a success were the sponsors and members of Future Teachers of America and Quill and Scroll.

Stopping for cookies and a glass of punch are Greg Beckham and Julia Kowalenka.

Even with the holiday rush, couples still find time to learn the latest dance steps.

Despite joyous surroundings, Jim Bailey and Judy Garrett settle an argument.

'A Fine Arts Review'—more than just a song and dance

Sponsored by the Merrillville Forensic League and Thespian Troupe 1492, the Fine Arts Review was held February 13 and 14 in the Merrillville High auditorium.

Thespians contributed by performing two one-act plays. The Merrillville Forensic League presented a humorous interpretation and an original oration.

Added to the Review this year were the German and Spanish Honor Students, who performed German and Spanish folk songs.

Representing the music department were the Vocalteens, a woodwind ensemble and a trumpet trio.

Girls' Gymnastics presented a modern dance and tumbling exhibition. Art classes provided the large art exhibit that was viewed by the audience during intermission.

With a pleading look on her face, Terry Minard performs a humorous interp from "Once Upon a Mattress."

Karen Semplinski keeps in step to the music of a modern dance for the gymnastic portion of the show.

"Menuet," a classical arrangement, is performed by a large woodwind ensemble.

Performing the traditional Mexican Hat Dance are Denise Kurtis, Steve Kelnor, Karen Downey and John Henik.

Following a star are three Wisemen, Phil Cullimore, Ed Kasiak and Chuck Rubis.

Vocalteens dress in Spanish costumes to set the mood for "Calypso Noel."

Greetings are extended by choir, band

An outdoor bandstand, a manger scene, Santa's toyland and a holiday at home scene helped set the mood for the annual Christmas concert. The music department presented "Season's Greetings" in Engelhart Gym at 8:00 p.m., on Wednesday, Dec. 18, 1968.

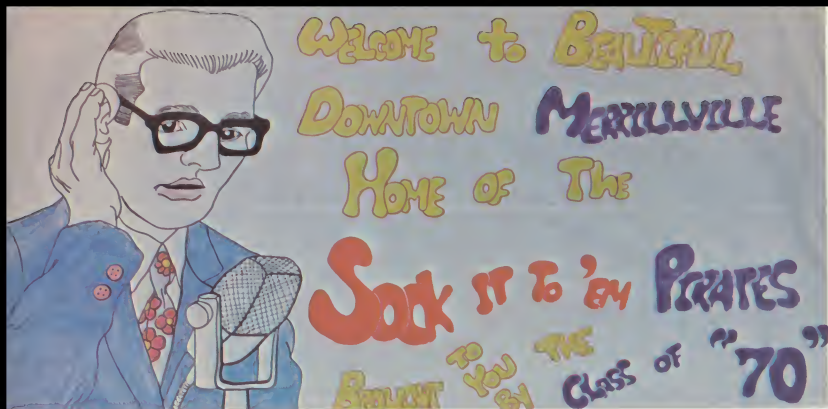

Featured in the traditional concert were an overture by the Concert Band, Christmas hymns sung by the Senior Choir and popular Christmas songs performed by the Vocalteens, Girls' Glee Club and Junior High Boys' Glee Club.

The evening concluded with the Concert Band accompanying the choir singing the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Members of the band and choirs combined to do a group of traditional carols.

Choir direction is only a small part of Mr. Jerauld Reinhart's school activities.

An eye-catching sign was hung to mark the entrance to the junior hall Laugh-In.

Pirate Mouse, commonly known as Coach Bill Metcalf, expresses his joy for being chosen leader of the senior Pirateers.

Enthusiasm, time, determination and hard work helped the junior class to qualify for their first spirit stick.

Early dismantling of spirit halls caused by fire hazard

One week prior to Basketball Homecoming, the week of February 17-21, was the fourth annual Spirit Week. Each class decorated its respective halls Monday after school.

A Disneyland theme of "Knock 'em Dizney" was chosen by the senior class. "Sock It To 'Em" carried out the junior Laugh-In theme. The sophomore class chose the western theme of "Round 'Em Up."

Although the decorations were removed from the halls two days early because of a fire hazard warning from the fire marshall, spirit remained high for the pep session Friday where each class presented a skit. At the pep session it was announced that GAA had the best spirit car.

Drawing Spirit Week to a close was the announcement during halftime at the Homecoming Game that the Class of 1970 was the fourth recipient of the Spirit Stick.

Portraying a baby in the junior skit, Debby Lietzen explains that nobody told the Pirates not to beat the Troopers.

Class of 1971 decided to construct their first spirit hall with a western theme.

Pirate Mouse, alias Charles Sedita, is hurled into the air by his fellow Pirates.

Sophomores Rene Touchette, Leo Sabonis and Jeff Edwards show spirit by participating in their skit "Hang 'em High."

Sharing the joy of being Sweetheart and Mr. Basketball for 1969 are Nancy Dunklau and Terry Demmon.

Homecoming royalty are Mary Ann Bacchus, Dave Homoky, Denise Reibly, Terry Demmon, Nancy Dunklau, Steve Melvick, Debbie Petrain, and Dale Moore.

Half-time included routines by the Pommettes to "Tea For Two" and "Can Can."

Homecoming activities close cager season

During the third annual Basketball Homecoming halftime, Nancy Dunklau was chosen to be Homecoming Sweetheart. She was crowned by Cheryl Keaveney, last year's Sweetheart, in front of an eight-foot heart made by Student Council members. Terry Demmon was named Mr. Basketball and received a basketball signed by his teammates.

Other halftime activities included the announcement that the class of 1970 won the fourth annual Spirit Week. Representing his class, Junior class President John Draper accepted the Spirit Stick.

Following the game, students relaxed at a sock-hop sponsored by FTA and National Honor Society. The "Current Generation" provided the music for the occasion.

To show she is behind her class and team, Ann Souronis carries out the sophomore western theme by wearing a cowboy hat and bandana.

Mountains of Switzerland are brought to MHS gym

Transforming Englehart Gym into a Swiss village was the goal of the junior class for the junior-senior prom. "Climb Every Mountain," held Saturday, May 3. The Swiss theme was accented by a Swiss chalet and a moving water wheel decked with multi-color flowers.

Dressed in the traditional costume of Switzerland, sophomore servers announced the couples as they arrived at the dance.

Excitement mounted as it was announced that Debbie Taseff and John Draper were selected queen and king. With Sav Amatulli providing the music, Queen Debbie and King John led the grand march.

Prior to the coronation, home-made Swiss dolls were awarded to the most valuable member of each prom committee.

Couples danced to the music of the "Muttentourg Courtship" at the PTA-sponsored post-prom at the Marquette Park Pavilion, where a buffet-style dinner was served.

Girls were presented with small hand mirrors as souvenirs of the memorable occasion.

An investigation of the decorations and an explanation by Nick Maroules enables Charlene Sedita to understand what makes the wheel turn.

Purple Party candidates are Jerry Breed, President; Debby Rogers, Vice President; Roxane Taylor, Secretary and Mark Austin, Treasurer.

Council voting results in a White victory

"Action not promises" was the victorious White party's slogan that helped to place them in office. Filling the Student Council officer positions were Betsy Wood, President; Jan Morfee, Vice-President; Alice McCorkle, Secretary; and Linda Dunklau, Treasurer.

The opposing Purple party chose the slogan "Purple Power." Its nominees included Jerry Breed, Debbie Rogers, Roxanne Taylor and Mark Austin.

Music for both party demonstrations at the assemblies at the high school and junior high was provided by the "Current Generation."

Students get recognition for awards won

Outstanding students were given recognition at the annual Awards Day Tuesday, May 20, in Engelhart Gymnasium. The ceremony was opened with the "Star Spangled Banner" played by the pep band.

After announcing students in the top 10 percent of each class, Mr. Bovard awarded pins to three-year senior Honor Society members. Specific academic awards and personal honors given by outside persons were then announced.

The Gary Post Tribune most valuable staffer award was presented to Jan Clement.

Mr. Robert Hannerwald from Valparaiso University awarded a $2400 scholarship to Vickie Mandernach. She also received a $200 scholarship from the Merrillville Federated Women's Club.

The Merrillville Classroom Teachers Association awarded a $200 scholarship to Jackie Nelson.

Hard work and dedication helped Randy Baran receive the science award.

The Class of 1969 closed the door to four years of high school at Commencement Exercises Monday, June 2, 8:00 p.m. in the Engelhart Gym. Music for the processional and recessional was provided by the MHS Concert Band.

"The Word Is Integrity" was the topic chosen by Mr. Dale Baughman for his address to the 390 graduating seniors.

Following the presentation of the senior class by Principal James Board, Superintendent Edgar Miller distributed the diplomas.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday, June 1, at 2:30 p.m. Dr. George Hogg, featured speaker, selected the topic "Reconciliation in This Alienated Society."

Concluding the service was the Concert Choir's interpretation of Lutkin's "The Lord Bless You."

Advanced trig broadens the math curriculum

An increase in enrollment caused the math department to add an Algebra I class and one geometry class to the curriculum. Geometry and Algebra II were operated on the accelerated, regular and special levels while trigonometry and analytical geometry were offered on the regular and advanced levels.

To aid in instructing the increase of students taking advantage of the opportunities of math courses at MHS, an additional math teacher was hired.

The math courses offered ranged from those of minimum difficulty such as general math and Algebra I, to the advanced courses of trigonometry, analytical geometry, probability and calculus.

English provides communication through literature and comps

New English text books were adopted with an emphasis on helping students appreciate their literary heritage. Arranged in a series of four books, poetry, drama, fiction and non-fiction were included. From the writings of Shakespeare to the twentieth century novels, students were given the opportunity to realize the relationship between history and literature.

While senior English was a continuation of literature and grammar, college prep offered a more advanced study of literature and composition to prepare students for college.

Sophomores and juniors chose from regular English courses or special or accelerated levels. Special classes were used to aid students with remedial work. Accelerated classes gave students the responsibility to think independently and advance at a faster rate.

Writing skills prepare staff for publication

Journalism instruction was increased this year with the addition of Journalism I, a course dealing with all aspects of mass media.

Newspapers from throughout the United States, magazines concerned with publications and reference books were used as supplementary materials.

Complete production of the MIRROR was taken over by the juniors in March, while the yearbook staff planned the 1970 MERRILLVUE.

Changing from a special edition of the MIRROR to a professionally printed magazine format, the RETROSPECT, a collection of high school memories for seniors, was financed by support from the community.

As an editor, the responsibility of a feature page is managed by Karen Myer.

Election studies involve many past, present, future affairs

An experiment in accelerated American history class concerning discrimination caused Merrillville students to take a long look at their society. The blue-eyed students were favored in class, while the brown-eyed group received much criticism and mistreatment. It was considered a learning experience by the students involved, who realized the effect discrimination can have on people.

All students were required to study the candidates for national and state offices along with the general issues for one week prior to the 1968 elections. Any student not enrolled in a social studies class took a week out of physical education class to learn about government.

A set of new maps was acquired for the social studies department to give students a greater familiarity with the part of the world they were studying.

Combined sections of accelerated history and English doubled their size from last year. The inquiry method was used, allowing individuals to read primary and secondary sources and form their own opinions.

A combined section of history and English on the special level was offered to juniors for the first time. This class gave students the opportunity to advance at their own speed through independent research.

Government and economics were taught on accelerated, regular and special levels to allow seniors to study according to their capabilities. The new inquiry method of teaching was also used in the advanced section of economics.

Science study tries modern inquiry method

A multiple text system was employed by Biology I and II centering around the concept of inquiry in place of the old method, memorization. This concept enabled students to reach their own conclusions to problems through written labs and research.

Each six weeks, students were required to prepare a report on outside reading material. Lab work determined 75 percent of students' grades.

Biology II expanded from one section to four. Five different books on the college level and basic lab techniques were used in Biology II. First year biology texts were three books arranged according to difficulty.

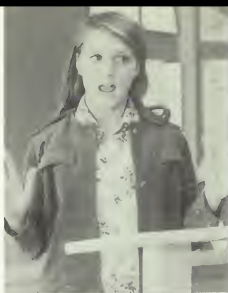

The chemistry program also grew in size as well as in content with the addition of second-year chemistry. An important part of chemistry class was spent working on experiments in the lab. Each lab was written up in standard form.

Physics was the most advanced science course offered to students.

When typing blood, biology students must shed a drop or two.

Gestures become vital part of vivid speech presentation

Returning from Christmas vacation as amateur performers, speech students presented a twenty-minute scene from a chosen play. The class divided into small groups to plan the class project over one six week period. To add to the total effect, each group provided their own costumes and props.

A new series of speech books, Speech in Action, published by Scott, Foresmen and Company, was bought for use in speech class.

"They do a better job in informing students about the basic fundamentals of speech," Mr. Morrow, speech teacher, commented on the new speech books.

Because of the expanding business world of today and the growing importance placed on communication and intelligent conversation, speech class enrollment has increased nearly fifty percent.

Using the techniques of such great artists as Leonardo Da Vinci and Michelangelo, the senior art students designed "A Story of Painting," a mural tracing art from the primitive cave man period to the totally non-objective period of today.

Block prints, water colors, wire sculptures, pen and ink drawings and crayon etchings were a few of the entries submitted to the 1969 Scholastic Art Awards Contest.

Art IV students worked diligently to create tissue paper stained-glass windows for the Christmas display. Spotlights accented the front lobby windows, which were viewed by the entire community.

With the profits received from the juke box that is played during lunch hours, pieces of equipment such as a movie camera were bought.

While in the past girls physical education was centered around individual aid, this year their classes emphasized more team activities. Bowling, softball, and track were a few of the organized competitive events. New tennis courts made it possible for gym classes to participate in tennis tournaments.

Ribbons were awarded to the top person in each event of the track meet in each class. Prior to the track meets, the girls classes participated in a new exercising program. Its purpose was to prepare the track participants for more durability and longer running distances.

In order to make gym class more pleasant, boys physical education centered around those activities which the boys enjoyed most. Previously, to the dislike of most boys, track and field was mostly running. This year, however, more field events were included.

Two new teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Thorne, were added to the physical education department staff.

With the help of student teacher Miss Judy Johansen, Mr. Reinhart and his class accompanist successfully prospered from the advantages of team teaching. Using the new techniques, the Senior Girls' Choir performed a song for teachers during their prep period.

Classroom time was devoted to preparation for the numerous concerts throughout the year. The concert band participated in the Christmas concert, the winter concert, the spring concert and the graduation ceremonies. Another segment of the band, the Marching Pirates, performed at the home football games. The pep band played at the pep sessions and home basketball games. The dance band was featured in the spring concert.

Students learn techniques in drivers ed.

To accommodate the increasing enrollment of 160 driver education students during summer school and 80 students during the school year, four cars were donated for summer school and one car for the school year.

Driver education cars were supplied through the courtesy of Walter and Lennertz Oldsmobile. They were equipped with dual braking systems and the latest safety devices for the protection of the students.

The main goal of driver education was to teach the students the rules of defensive driving. This goal was achieved through the use of film strips, textbooks and application of driving skills on the road.

On the annual Awards Day at the end of the year, Mr. Lennertz accepted an award from Mr. Lehman of the Chicago Motor Club. The award was given by the Chicago Motor Club in recognition of Walter and Lennertz's public service in donating driver education cars to Merrillville High School for the past several years.

College application forms cause Linda Petrovich to seek the aid of Mrs. Coon.

The guidance department increased its membership with the addition of a new counselor, Mr. Sherman Lewis. Mrs. Coon and Mrs. Court, the two previous counselors, along with Mr. Lewis decided to change the format of the department.

In order to better understand the problems of the different grade levels and how to cope with them, each counselor was assigned to one-third of each class.

The counselors concentrated on directing an increasing interest in the non-college bound student as well as those students planning to attend college. Representatives from such companies as Illinois Bell, Bethlehem and Inland Steel Corporations and Gary National Bank visited MHS to aid those students seeking jobs after graduation. In addition, the guidance department sponsored a career night.

Students resort to the library for needed reference materials

Because of federal and local programs of increased library finances and the addition of a full-time secretary-clerk to help the librarian, the library has increased its variety and quantity of materials.

The Merrillville Senior High School Library has become an instructional materials center. Not only did the library increase its number of the usual books, periodicals and vertical file materials but also added filmstrips, recordings, transparencies, films, slides, study prints and other varieties of instructional materials.

In exchange for their valuable service to the library, the eighteen student librarians gained worthwhile experience in library science, typing, filing and various office procedures. Junior assistant Karen Downey was selected to attend a student librarians' summer workshop at Purdue University.

Because the library was plagued with leaking roofs, lack of shelving and antique equipment failures, it became necessary to close the library for a few weeks during the second semester.

Coached by Jim Kaiser, the reserve football squad won three and lost seven games.

The team received extra help from Coach Ron Clark, a 1964 Merrillville graduate. With his help, a new formation was developed in the backfield.

Because of an effective coaching staff, the reserve squad received valuable experience for future varsity competition.

The school's first out-of-area Christmas tourney, a not so explosive 6-15 season and senior Al Opolski being named to the Calumet Conference's All Star Team, highlighted the Pirate's 1968-'69 campaign.

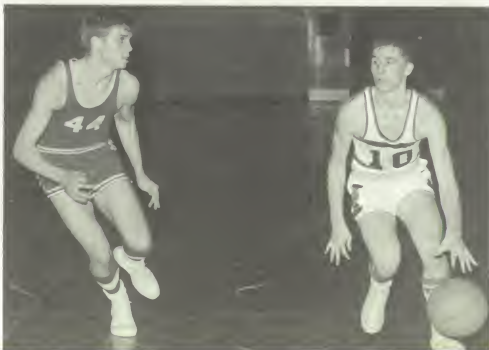

Built around a nucleus of nine returning lettermen, the team began the season working to accomplish such team goals as a high scoring average, defense average and turnover rate. Losing its first eight games, the roundballers finally cracked the ice with a victory over Lake Central.

Lacking the experience of victory, Merrillville entered the Tipton Holiday Tourney only to be defeated by Kokomo Haworth. The Pirates were also defeated in their Homecoming game with Munster and their opening game in the Crown Point Sectional to Hebron.

Because of the increasing interest shown in girls' gymnastics, it was necessary to form a reserve as well as a varsity team. At tryouts, the girls' performances were rated by points from 1-10 and then picked for the teams.

Two second places and one first place were gained by the team at the three home meets. The girls placed third in the 13 schools participating in the district meet at East Gary High School.

Stickmen share conference title

Under Coach Max Hutchison, this year's golf team finished on top of the conference with a 21-5 record. It was not until the last week of competition that the Pirates yielded to both Chesterton and Calumet. The losses ruined the team's hopes of taking an undisputed first place in the Calumet Conference.

Junior Rick Nichols led the club in the lowest stroke average while freshmen Rudolph, Stewart and Poore showed potential for upcoming years at the high school.

Outgoing students are recognized for their efforts

Under the leadership of President Pam Sheridan, Vice-President Bruce Smith, Secretary Dianne Lind and Treasurer Nancy Dunklau, National Honor Society became an active club.

A field trip into Chicago March 30 to see the movie "Funny Girl" highlighted Honor Society's busy year.

Bake sales and after-school potato chip sales were organized to help defray expenses of pins and certificates for induction. The club's major money making project for the year was co-sponsoring the Basketball Homecoming sock hop with the Future Teachers Association.

As a service project, NHS collected money for WCAE, Channel 50.

For the first time, National Honor Society had a spring banquet May 21, at Wellman's in Valparaiso. The installation of officers was held at the banquet.

Student—Faculty Body proposes change for future

Seeking to help bridge the generation gap by developing a communication line between students and faculty, Student Council organized the Student-Faculty Advisory Board.

The Board was composed of ten students and ten teachers. A Student Council interviewing committee chose two student representatives from each class. In addition, one Student Council member from each class as well as one Council member at-large was chosen to serve on the committee.

"Tobacco hill," homerooms on a regular basis, curriculum expansion, finals scheduling and necessity, half-way control and driving out at lunch hours were a few of the topics discussed at the meetings.

In an attempt to expand the curriculum at MHS, the committee requested the faculty to submit a list of courses they would like to teach. From this list a curriculum questionnaire was prepared and submitted to the students in home rooms to vote for the courses they would like offered.

Discussing more electives for the curriculum next year are Board members, Mr. Drescher, Mr. Kasarda, Mr. Weidenbener and Gregg Beckham.

Directed by Mrs. Agnes Lynch, the Thespian Troupe presented the Christmas one-act, "Hillbilly Christmas Carol" for the Christmas convocation Wednesday, Dec. 18. The play was a take-off of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol."

Three Thespian members Robin Nelson, Terry Minard and Andy Bartley, participated in a skit at the United Fund benefit luncheon in October.

Pins were presented and trophies were awarded to outstanding Thespian members at the annual banquet at the Red Lion Restaurant. "Ladies of the Jury," the senior class play, was named best play of the year. Dave Gust was the recipient of the Best Thespian award trophy.

At the banquet, Thespians presented a charm bracelet with charms representing each of the year's plays, to Miss Carlson for her help with the costumes for the plays over the past three years.

Council strives better student government

Student Council opened the year under the leadership of President Cathy Austin, Vice-President Russ Keaveney, Secretary Nancy Dunklau and Treasurer Dianne Lind.

Sponsoring both football and basketball homecoming weekends were Council's major projects of the year.

MHS Student Council took part in the forming of an Inter-School Student Council. Consisting of representatives from Valparaiso, Lake Central, Hobart, River Forest and Crown Point, this organization attempted to promote better relationships between schools and to share new ideas to improve Council.

Along with the Councils from Lake Central and Griffith, Merrillville Student Council sponsored a Computer Dance April 11, at the Lake Central fieldhouse.

Donations from many MHS clubs for the Council-sponsored Project Vietnam enabled Council to buy such needed articles as soap, cigarettes and chewing gum for servicemen.

Constructing the MHS heart for basketball homecoming are Student Council members Brenda Taylor, Debby Rogers, Pam Sheridan, Nancy Dunklau, Jerry Breed, Cathy Austin, Dianne Lind, Leoma Lovegrove, Judy Sullivan and Sue Brown.

News events are related by MIRROR Staff

Because of the expanding student body, an updated weekly newspaper had to be produced by the MIRROR staff under editor Jan Tanner. The mimeograph machine was replaced with off-set printing by the Merrillville HERALD. Hand drawn pictures were replaced with weekly photographs taken by student photographers Joy Tanner and Mike Stewart.

Journalism students gave up several hours of free time after school and on Saturdays selling advertisements to local businesses in the Merrillville area. Thanks to the adults in the community, advertisements flourished the four page paper, giving it a well-balanced professional touch.

The days of the "dime a copy" issue were replaced by business manager Joyce Vrazo. Since this was a new approach for selling the MIRROR, a contest between the junior and senior journalism classes was organized to rally all students to buy subscriptions. The winning class was given a Halloween Party.

Yearbook staff works together, meets deadline

Featuring 11 pages of color, the 1969 MERRILLVUE was enlarged to a 9" x 12" book. Page layouts patterned after commercial magazines provided the MERRILLVUE with a new look.

Expanding from two to five sections, the MERRILLVUE covered academics, activities, organizations, sports and album.

As a new addition to the MERRILLVUE staff, the staff photographer took many of the pictures used in the book. A makeshift darkroom was set up with equipment donated from people in the community along with the gra-lab timer and contact printer bought with MERRILLVUE funds. Also purchased was a filing cabinet and index file.

Although plans began in the early spring, work on the 1969 MERRILLVUE continued at the high school yearbook summer workshop at Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana, where Editor Tina Mussie and other members of the staff decided on the basic style and theme. Cheerleaders, spirit boosters back Pirates Organization of a car caravan for the football game against undefeated Lowell initiated a year of accomplishments for Pep Club. Money raising projects such as selling Merrillville Pirate license plates and sponsoring a sock hop enabled Pep Club to purchase new basketball uniforms for the varsity cheerleaders.

Hanging stars, bordering clouds and a white and gold rocket trimmed with MHS all helped to carry out Pep Club's Homecoming float theme "Give Our Team a Lift."

As new additions to Pep Club, yell kings Andy Bartley and Mike Haming assisted the Varsity Cheerleaders in promoting school spirit.

FTA provides students with experience, creates leadership

Because of a record membership of 81 upperclassmen, Future Teachers of America membership was limited to juniors and seniors.

Guest speaker, Mr. Robert Robertson from the Indiana State Department of Special Education lectured at the October meeting.

Christmas coasters were presented to the teachers at the annual FTA-sponsored teachers' breakfast.

A Christmas party was given for the special education classes at Miller School.

In March, sophomores were inducted into FTA at a special initiation ceremony.

Helping to finance the year's activities were such money-making projects as co-sponsoring the Christmas turnabout dance and the Basketball Homecoming sock hop.

Highlighting the many achievements of the Future Homemakers of America was their first place rating for their Homecoming car entry with the theme "Press 'em."

The windy city of Chicago was the destination of FHA shoppers and sightseers. The showing of "Finian's Rainbow" was their main attraction.

One of the year's objectives, "Leisure Time—Constructive Time," was completed November 19 when Mrs. Kirtland gave a flower-making demonstration. Patterns were made to use on velvet crepe, wood fibre, feathers and many other materials to construct the flowers.

At Christmas time, FHA made Christmas stockings and hosted a party for the Carmelite Home for Girls.

Two helpful movies were seen at the February and March meetings. "Health Frauds" gave many good examples of the difficulties a person can encounter if one isn't careful of the products that are purchased. "Money Management" pointed out the advantages of spending money carefully.

FSA members broaden views for office careers

A potluck dinner was served at the Future Secretaries of America Christmas party Dec. 19, at Becky Bartley's house. The party included a gift exchange and a guest speaker.

FSA was led by President Sandy Fox, Vice-President Cheryl Sattler, Secretary Kathy Dell and Treasurer Sharon Pritchard. A guest speaker was featured at every meeting. At several of the meetings, former FSA President Maryel Rainford talked about her experiences as a secretary.

The club's visit to the First National Bank provided worthwhile knowledge concerning the different types of secretaries.

Instead of the traditional spring banquet, FSA had a pizza party. Next year's officers were installed at this time.

Medical Careers provides training

Because of their emphasis placed on learning through experience, the Medical Careers Club scheduled hospital tours, made toys for hospitalized children and raised money for charity.

Two paper drives and a sock hop made it possible for the club to donate money to the Lake County Detention Home and several other worthwhile causes.

In order to gain a better insight into possible future medical careers, the club visited two hospitals, Methodist Hospital in Gary and Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago. Not only did they tour the hospitals but they also spread good cheer among the patients.

Mr. Sabo, a pharmacist, lectured to the club and provided helpful information for those members planning a career in pharmacy.

Completing the year's activities was the spring banquet at Vogel's Restaurant in Hammond. At that time, President Emily Schultz and Vice-President Debbie Klahn were replaced by the new officers. Seniors were presented with gold key chains with the inscription of the club initials.

Science club members use trial and error

Meeting every Wednesday, the Science Club developed their interest in science by performing various experiments. Sponsored by Mr. Vermillion, head of the science department, the club included eleven members.

Milikans Oil Drop was an experiment performed by the club which determined the charge of the electron. Energy over mass was the basic principle used to determine the ratio of charge to mass for the electron.

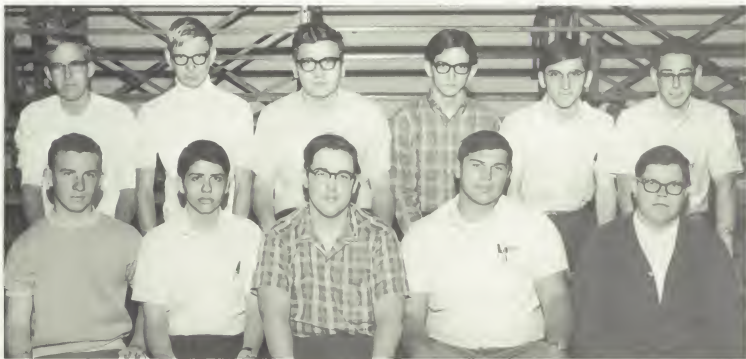

Other experiments such as Spectral Analysis also proved to be challenging. The purpose of this experiment was to distinguish different elements by means of separating the visible spectra.

Speech creates opportunity for self-expression

Boasting fifty members, Merrillville Forensic League, known as Speech Club, participated in seven speech contests and five debate tournaments.

Various money-raising projects such as bake sales, the Fine Arts Revue and class plays enabled Speech Club to pay state and national Forensic League dues as well as buy awards and trophies. This year speech contest judges were given monetary thanks from Speech Club.

For the first time, speech and debate were separated under different coaches. Formerly under the direction of Mr. Morrow, the debate team was coached by Mrs. Spurr.

The topic debated by the sixteen members of the debate team was "Resolved: The United States should adopt a compulsory system of national service by all citizens." Varsity debaters debated both sides of the topic while novice debaters defended only one side.

Voices unite in musical performances

Narrated by Bluntley and Hinkley, the annual spring concert entitled "What a Country" included a tour of the different sections of the United States. The concert, presented May 14, 1969, at 8:00 p.h. in the Engelhart Gym, featured the combined choirs, the dance band and the concert band.

Because of the state-wide teachers' work stoppage, the annual Choral Festival was cancelled.

Choir members, with the assistance of the Choir Booster Club, sold shamrock pins on St. Patrick's Day. The pins were sold to raise money for senior gifts awarded at the Choir banquet, April 30, at the Merrillville American Legion.

GAA offers recreation and activity to girls

Sue Feczko was one of 309 girls from the state of Indiana to receive the G.A.A. Award Saturday, April 19 at Ball State University. A total of 350 points must be obtained for this award. These points were earned during her three years in high school by scoring high in written and skill tests.

Epworth Forest at North Webster, Indiana was the setting for the Indiana League of High School Girls' Athletic Association Fall Leadership Training Camp. Attending the camp geared for the training of officers in an atmosphere of relaxation and enjoyment were President Sue Feczko, Vice-President Barb Joyce and sponsor Miss Borucki.

Sponsoring the first football sock-hop and selling Merrillville Pirate T-Shirts were two of G.A.A.'s money raising projects for the year.

Activities of the club included a Christmas party, a badminton and ping-pong tournament and a mother-daughter awards banquet. The year included a trip to Valparaiso to observe a demonstration by Valpo's girl's gymnastic team.

Sunshine Club honors parents, helps others

Honoring their parents on two occasions, Sunshine Society sponsored a daddy-date night and a mother-daughter banquet.

Keeping the thirty members busy were such money-making projects as candy and bake sales. Because spreading cheer and helping others was the main concern of Sunshine Society this year, proceeds from the sales were donated to the Riley Memorial Children's Hospital in Indianapolis.

To spread the Christmas spirit, Christmas carols were sung for the neighborhood at Sunshine Society's Christmas party.

Two conventions, fall and spring, gave the club an opportunity to exchange ideas with other Sunshine Societies from high schools throughout the state.

Obtaining money to support club activities throughout the year is Kerry Seale. Bakesales are good money-making projects and also serve the purpose of lunch when on a diet.

Spanish Club presents their rewarding year

Beginning the year in a festive mood, the club received first place for their homecoming float entry, a 20-foot dragon entitled "Fight Trooper Mouth."

Fund raising projects also accented the year's activities. Candy was sold to earn money for the Honors Program. Toys, food and clothing were collected and presented to a needy Spanish-American family.

Taking time out for fun, the club enjoyed a Christmas banquet as well as the annual spring banquet. The spring banquet included a Spanish meal and movie in Chicago.

With 45 muchachos and muchachas, Spanish Club has proved to be one of the most active clubs in the school.

Packages are gathered by inspired Spanish Club members Rene Broschart, Mary Keilman and Debby Rogers to take to the needy people.

The collection of club dues is the responsibility of Deb Rogers, Treas.

Leadership guides the Class of 1971

Leading the sophomore class are Mark Austin, President; Jackie Hales, Vice-president; Melinda Momot, Secretary and Lori Nickovich, Treasurer.

As underclassmen, the Class of 1971 began their high school career by attending the Student Council-sponsored Orientation Day in August. Representatives from each MHS club were on hand to inform the new sophomores of each club's purposes and activities.

Sophomores began the year by placing third in the homecoming float competition. Their float theme "Whip and Chill 'Em" was carried out by a large paper refrigerator, a bowl and a beater.

White carnations with red ribbons were sold by the sophomores on Valentine's Day to add to the class fund.

Participating in their first Spirit Week, the Class of 1971 chose the theme of "Round 'Em Up." A Mustang on a hangman's noose and wagon wheels emphasized the Western theme. Along the sophomore hall, a western wood fence was constructed. A western town, including a County Store, was formed using each of the rooms in the hall.

Cowboy hats, guns and red scarves were used by sophomores to promote spirit on their class day Thursday.

The sophomore executive board chose smokey topaz stones for their class rings. The round collegiate style was selected by the class-represented board.

Going over plans for the sophomore class are Mrs. Stoelting, sponsor, and Mark Austin, president.

As a symbol of affiliation with Merrillville, class rings were distributed to the Class of 1970 in the fall.

Built in Glen Luedke's barn, a large colorful machine emphasized the junior homecoming float theme "Pirate's Reducing Machine," second place winner in the float division.

Using a "Laugh-In" theme, the Class of 1970 emerged victorious in the fourth annual Spirit Week competition. Henry Gibson poems and a "Laugh-In" library accented the junior hall. Along with the slogan "Sock it to em," noisemakers and party hats were used on the junior class day. Class President John Draper accepted the Spirit Stick at the basketball homecoming halftime festivities.

The major project undertaken by the junior class this year was the Junior-Senior Prom, May 3. Plans for the Swiss decorations that carried out the junior theme "Climb Every Mountain" began in early December.

Helping to finance the prom was the class play "Dinny and the Witches" presented Nov. 21, 22, 23, 8:00 p.m., in the auditorium.

Planning for the future, juniors prepared for college by taking the National Merit Test, the PSAT and the SAT college board tests.

Juniors receive class rings with aquamarine stone set in gold.

Class leaders of '70 are John Draper, President; Dave Reberg, Vice-president; Debbie Taseff, Secretary and Jan Morfee, Treasurer.

Class of 1969 reviews past—awaits future

As graduates, the Class of '69 could boast a senior year crowned with success. Their first major project of the year, the construction of a Homecoming float, "Armed For a Victory," contributed creativity to the Homecoming parade.

During the Christmas season, the 69ers gift-wrapped every locker in "senior hall" to promote the Christmas spirit in the school. In addition they were proven to have outstanding attendance at athletic events throughout the year.

The class brought Walt Disney characters to "Pirateland" to carry out their "Knock 'Em Dizney" theme during Spirit Week. On their class day they masqueraded as Mickey Mouse by wearing purple mouse ears and blackening their noses to further demonstrate their originality.

Hundreds of spectators come to view the senior-sponsored class play, "Ladies of the Jury," a comedy involving a behind-the-scenes look at a jury's deliberation.

Diplomas were clenched in one hand while tassels were turned with the other on Monday, June 2, 1969, when the class of 1969 made their final appearance at Merrillville High School—this time not as students, but as alumni.

"Yet all experience is an arch wherethrough Gleams that untravelled world."

Alfred Lord Tennyson

Our lives are not always dynamic.
At times, we find ourselves lumbering along—slowly—until we apply a brake within ourselves
which slows us down long enough to let us separate good from bad,
to relax, to nourish our souls,
to appreciate, to think about life.
